DIADATO GETS REPRIEVE UNTIL THIRTIETH OF JUNE

Norwich and New London Italians Worked in His Behalf-Case to Come Before Board of Pardons,

Governor Weeks on Wednesday granted a reprieve to Diratto Cabaudo, alias Dominick Didato, who is under sentence of death to be executed May 28 at the state prison in Wethersfield for murder committed in New London county. The reprieve is until June 20

The reprieve is in response to a petition, signed by Joseph Rapp and about 100 other Italian residents of New London and Norwich, who want the case heard by the board of pardons in the hope that the sentence of the training of the community of the ground. death was be commuted on the ground that the killing was not premeditated. Governor Weeks had a consultation with Attorney General M. H. Holcomb on the petition. He decided to grant the reprieve. Executive Clerk Frank D. Rood notified the officials at the state prison of the decision of the governor and made arrangements with Sheriff E. W. Dewey for the service of the papers in connection with the re-prieve on Cabaudo, the warden and on the clerk of the superior court of New London county.

In looking into the matter Governor Weeks saw that there was no unnecessary delay in the preparation of the petition for a reprieve. Though Cabaudo was tried and sentenced last fall his case could not have been fall, his case could not have been brought before the board of pardons at fall, his case could not have been brought before the board of pardons at the December session owing to the fact that the supreme court had not passed on his appeal. The decision on the appeal was not handed down by the supreme court until the court was bolding the May term in Hartford.
